Ike Promptly OKs Resignation By Talbott

President Says Move Is Right One; Many In Washington Agree

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harold E. Talbott will step out as secretary of the Air Force Aug. 13 lest his profits from an outside business interest "embarrass" the Eisenhower administration.

President Eisenhower, promptly accepting Talbott's resignation late yesterday, told Talbott, "Your decision was the right one." There was widespread agreement.

Some said Talbott had done a good job as secretary, but no one in Washington said publicly that Talbott shouldn't have quit.

Eisenhower, in an exchange of letters made public by the White House, praised Talbott's official services as "effectively and loyally performed."

Talbott, a 67-year-old Ohioan, had come under critical scrutiny by the Senate Investigations subcommittee because of an outside business connection which returned him $132,032 in his 2 1/2 years as secretary. He had told the senators he would give it up.

CHAIRMAN PAUL M. Butler of the Democratic National Committee and some of his fellow party members had called on Eisenhower to fire Talbott, asserting the secretary used his official position for personal gain.

Beyond saying Talbott had made the right decision, Eisenhower did not discuss the ethics of the situation in accepting the resignation. Talbott wrote the President that he himself was "clear in my mind and conscience that my actions have been within the bounds of ethics."

Talbott left it up to the President as to when he should leave. Eisenhower set Aug. 13.

In a letter delivered to Eisenhower earlier in the day by Secretary of Defense Wilson, Talbott wrote he was resigning "because I would not in any circumstances wish to be a source of embarrassment to you or your splendid administration."

Pentagon sources said they believed the President would take his time deciding on a successor.

These have been mentioned as possibilities: Gov. George N. Craig of Indiana; Rep. Carl Hinshaw (R-Calif.); James Douglas, under secretary of the Air Force; Lee White, a New York lawyer and former assistant secretary; and Fred Crawford, a Cleveland industrialist.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) of the Senate Investigations subcommittee, said that "in my judgment, the matter the committee had under inquiry has now been satisfactorily resolved."

The subcommittee had been looking into Talbott's conduct in seeking business for the New York business engineering firm of Paul B. Mulligan and Co., in which he held a partnership. Some of the firm's clients hold government contracts.

Monk Cuts Finger, Writes In Blood

SEOUL (AP)—Some 770 unmarried monks and nuns today watched a fellow celibate slash his finger and write a blood letter to President Syngman Rhee to protest the continued presence of married priests in Buddhist temples.

The blood-writing ordeal, which covered 400 words, ended when the priest, Soh Koo San, collapsed from loss of blood.

The government earlier had ordered the 5,000 married priests and nuns out of the temples by June 30. But most of them ignored the order and ROK officials have been hesitant to use force.

Cleric, Wife Head Religious Factions

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—A religious dispute has separated a pastor and his wife and divided their congregation, an attorney for one of the parties reports.

Half the Gospel Assembly Church congregation is siding with the Rev. E. L. Mullineaux and the other half is supporting his wife, Atty. Pat Warnick said.

Warnick represents Mrs. Mullineaux's group, which has filed a suit asking partition of church properties, or permission to buy out the faction backing Rev. Mr. Mullineaux's doctrinal beliefs.

Ohioan Gets Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Maj. Gen. Clovis E. Byers, a native of Columbus, Ohio, has been designated commandant of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Defense College in Paris.

A SIGN THAT ONCE guided traffic on the Washington Boulevard in Pittsburgh is taken over here by lifeguards from a nearby swimming pool as heavy rains flooded the highway. In some sections water was up to car roof level and two drivers were rescued by rowboat.

McCarthy's Latest Attack On Ike Draws Sharp Reply

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) said today "the American people will rebut" charges by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) that President Eisenhower offered "friendship to tyrants and murderers" at Geneva.

McCarthy denounced in the Senate yesterday what he termed Eisenhower's "profession of faith" in a statement of Russian leaders that they want peace.

He said he believes a "sell-out" to the Communists in Asia is in the making and he intends to "take the issue to the American people."

Township Men Delay Huddle At Courthouse

Question marks lingered today over a proposed meeting between spokesmen for the county townships and Pickaway County commissioners.

Approximately half of the county's township chairmen gathered Monday at the courthouse where they said they planned to talk with the commissioners. However, after waiting for nearly an hour downstairs while the commissioners waited in their main floor offices, the township leaders called off the conference until a later date.

Commissioner Lyman Penn, who conferred with members of the township group, said he knew "nothing from nothing" as to how plans for the meeting originated. It had not been announced in advance.

However, one of the township chairmen said he understood the discussion was to center on "the trouble between Sheriff Radcliff and the commissioners." The reference presumably was to the recurrent differences between the sheriff's department and county commission over operating funds for the law enforcement branch.

The township chairmen, one of them said, finally decided to wait until after a meeting scheduled Saturday before they talk with the commissioners.

Ivy Vaccine OK'd

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The University of Pennsylvania has announced that tests on a new vaccine for prevention of poison ivy have proved successful. Thousands of volunteers submitted to a series of injections intended to desensitize them to the weed.

Second Lutheran Minister Facing Heresy Accusation

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The liberal interpretations given the doctrine of his church have brought another young Milwaukee minister face to face with a charge of heresy.

The Rev. John Gerberding, 33, must stand a formal church trial on specific counts of doctrinal deviation, an investigating committee of the Northwest Synod, United Lutheran Church, voted unanimously last night.

Pastor Gerberding, whose church is at Menomonee Falls, sat with and tried to aid the losing defense of the Rev. George Crist Jr. of Durham, who was convicted of similar charges at a two-day trial last week.

Pastor Crist's suspension from his pulpit was recommended, and Dr. Paul E. Bishop of Minneapolis, who headed the investigating committee, said official suspension was only a matter of time.

Goldwater, who heads the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, said that "I think the American people themselves will rebut Joe."

He said he doesn't believe the people will "buy" McCarthy's contention that the Big Four conference at Geneva constituted a rout for the free world forces.

"I THINK THE people are pretty well pleased with the outcome of the Geneva conference, even those who have some reservations about the matter," he said. "The people are for peace and they believe we have made a start toward getting it."

McCarthy declared "the Eisenhower administration has adopted every important plank of the Democrat party's foreign policy" and reduced the 1952 Republican platform to "a scrap of paper."

He said most Republicans "in their hearts, I think, are opposed to the President's policies."

"But they have accepted the theory that they cannot return to office in 1956 without Eisenhower at the head of the ticket and they are, I am afraid, prepared to subordinate considerations of sound policy to those of political survival," he said.

He said there is "every reason to believe that concrete measures for appeasement were agreed upon at Geneva," despite Eisenhower's statement that no commitments of any kind were made.

3 Persons Killed In Car-Truck Crash

BUCYRUS (AP)—An automobile submarined beneath a truck-trailer at the junction of U. S. 30N and Ohio 598 last night and killed all three occupants of the car.

The accident occurred about 2 1/2 miles west of nearby Crestline. The Ohio Highway Patrol identified the victims as Lowell T. Fletcher, 21, the driver; his wife Elma R., 22, and Inez Livenspir, about 50, all of Shiloh.

Nelson H. Stoller, 33, of Paulding, the driver of the truck-trailer, was not hurt.

Rep. Brown Loses Import Protest

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Brown (R-Ohio) protested a bill permitting the sale of silk scarves, saying it would permit importers to "dump" products on the American market which would "risk and endanger the lives of Americans."

Brown contended the scarves were dangerously flammable. The bill was voted down yesterday.

Ike Hints He May Summon Special Congress Session

2 Air Force Planes Await Freed Fliers

11 Airmen Scheduled To Be Released By Reds In Hong Kong

HONG KONG (AP)—The U. S. Air Force ordered two C54 transports to Hong Kong today, presumably to bring home the 11 American airmen due here Thursday after more than two years' imprisonment in Communist China.

Red China notified the United States yesterday that the men were being freed and said they had left Peiping on their way home.

A U. S. Air Force officer said the men will be taken from the border to Fanling, a plush jockey club. There each man will be given a medical examination. If the doctors say the men are in good shape they will probably pose for pictures—in new uniforms.

Then they will be driven to Hong Kong for a brief news conference before leaving for Honolulu.

White House Press Secretary James Hagerty said yesterday in Washington the 11 fliers would be reunited with their families "as soon as is humanly possible."

HE SAID HE expected the Air Force would fly relatives at least part of the way to the Far East to meet them.

The 11 were sentenced on spy charges after their B29 was shot down over North Korea Jan. 12, 1953. The United States denied the espionage charge, saying they were on a routine leaflet-dropping mission.

The commander of the B29, Col. John Knox Arnold Jr., Silver Spring, Md., was given a 10-year sentence. Sentences given the other crew members ranged down to four years.

The announcement of their release made no mention of two Army civilian employees tried with the Air Force men and given the longest sentences of the group.

They are John T. Downey, 24, New Britain, Conn., sentenced to life imprisonment, and Richard G. Fecteau, 27, Lynn, Mass., given 20 years.

Downey and Fecteau were in a B29 shot down in November 1952. The Chinese Reds said they had admitted being on a mission to drop nine Chinese spies, who also were captured. The Army said the two men were hitchhiking on a plane from Seoul to Tokyo when it was shot down.

The United States is seeking their release, along with 39 other American civilians detained in China, in the current talks with Red Chinese Ambassador Wang Ping-nan in Geneva.

Here Is Proper Way To Pronounce 45-Letter Name

WEBSTER, Mass. (AP)—If the name of this town's famous Lake Chaugagoggmanchauggagogg-gchaubunagungamaugg gives you pronunciation difficulty, here's the answer, provided by the Webster Welcome Committee.

Just break the 45 letters down into seven lines like this:

Char-ogg
A-gogg
Man-chaugg
A-gogg
Chau-bun
A-gun
Ga-maugg

Accent the last syllable in each of the seven lines.

Although the committee says the Indian name of the lake means "fishing place at the boundaries, neutral meeting grounds," it concedes there is a persistent belief that it also means "you fish on your side, I fish on my side, nobody fish in the middle."

Tito Lauds Ike

LONDON (AP)—Belgrade radio said today that Marshal Tito has described President Eisenhower as a sincere man "who profoundly idealizes peace." The broadcast quoted a July 25 interview Tito gave to 30 visiting Americans.

U.S.-Chinese Geneva Talks In Recess Until Thursday

GENEVA (AP)—The United States and Red China recessed their diplomatic talks for 48 hours today after exchanging views on the repatriation of 40 American civilians held by the Peiping regime and Chinese students in America.

There was no communique at the end of today's 55-minute talk between U. Alexis Johnson of the United States and Wang Ping-nan of Red China. But a Chinese spokesman confirmed that the problem of the civilians was discussed and that the next meeting would be held Thursday.

Although the Chinese source declined to say whether any concrete proposals were made by either side, it was assumed that the recess was taken to permit consultations with Washington and Peiping on the preliminary exchange of views.

A spokesman for the U. S. delegation indicated this might be the regular pattern for the talks with frequent recesses to permit consultations with the home governments.

Lost Dog Adds To Grief For Local Family

In the tiny, five-year old world that surrounds Rose Evelyn Stonerock, her tragedy is probably even greater than that caused by the fire that ruined the family home.

The attention of the whole community has been drawn to the plight of the family, left homeless and virtually without worldly goods when a blaze raged through a dwelling in Jackson Township early Sunday. But only a few know the tragedy that looms even larger for the Stonerocks' child.

While public assistance agencies were being contacted to aid the family, it was learned that the child's pet dog, a brown female fox terrier, disappeared from kennels along Riverside drive. The animal was being treated for a leg injury and in some manner wandered away, still apparently with one of the front legs in a cast.

Anyone having any information on the missing dog can find a mighty worried Rose Evelyn at the family's temporary home on the Circleville - Commercial Point Road, Circleville Route 3. The Stonerock family was taken in temporarily by relatives after the Sunday morning fire.

Anyone see a fox terrier hobbling around on three legs looking for a five-year old girl?

Satelloid Said Next Development

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—Satelloid and satelloid were the major words in conversation today at the Sixth International Astronomical Congress.

Scientists from 18 countries attending the meeting of persons interested in space travel praised the initiative of the United States in planning an earth satellite project. And some of them made it known they believed satelloid planning is the next major step.

A satelloid, they explained to the uninformed, would be a body cruising around the earth at an altitude of about 250 miles. A satelloid would travel higher and eventually visit other planets.

Brazilian Coffee Damaged By Chill

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—A cold wave has brought heavy damage to coffee trees in Parana state, one of Brazil's four chief coffee-growing areas.

Temperatures as low as 14 degrees and snowfalls of 20 inches were reported.

Meridional News Agency quoted the mayor of one coffee center yesterday as saying half the trees on plantations in northern Parana were destroyed.

Coffee futures on the New York market jumped the daily limit of 2 cents a pound yesterday.

Neither the U. S. nor the Chinese spokesmen would give any details of the discussions.

Just before this morning's meeting, roving Indian envoy V. K. Krishna Menon conferred with Johnson for 45 minutes, but neither Menon nor Johnson would comment on their conversation.

Menon said, however, that he felt the problem of civilian repatriation could be settled without serious difficulties. The Indian diplomat had served as a go-between in getting the U. S. - Chinese talks arranged.

The United States is seeking the release of some 40 American civilians, mostly missionaries or businessmen, held in Chinese jails, under house arrest or unable to get exit permits from Red China.

Peiping has charged the United States with refusing to let a number of Chinese students return from America to China.

During the Korean War, Washington banned the departure of any students whose American training could be useful to the Red military. The ban was relaxed last year, and the United States says no Chinese since have been prevented from leaving.

However, U. S. Secretary of State Dulles indicated in Washington last week that a "few" students want to return to Red China but have not applied for exit permits. He said the United States was prepared to discuss their status.

The burning questions to the Chinese are the status of Formosa and a seat in the United Nations. The United States has already made clear it will not take up matters concerning the Chinese nationalists, so long as they are not present at the conference table.

Wang's call for a "free exchange of views," however, could be interpreted as a bid for only a discussion of common problems without the aim of definite agreements that would affect the interests of the nationalists. Such agreements, if they appeared possible, presumably could be left for later meetings.

Events, including the release of 11 American airmen by the Reds, appear to be moving in the direction of a peaceful Chinese policy, Dulles said.

What seem to be signs of change might be misleading, the secretary continued.

But he declared that developments including release of the fliers, may mark the beginning of a new phase in Chinese Communist relations with the rest of the world.

THE GENEVA talks opened yesterday. Dulles said that so far as the United States is concerned they will be devoted mainly to negotiations on return of about 40 American civilians held in Red China.

The Geneva talks, Dulles said, may be a step toward eventual broader negotiations between Red China and the United States.

But Dulles asserted flatly that the status of Formosa, Quemoy and Masu (islands held by the Chinese nationalists) are not subject to negotiation.

That, he said, is not in the realm of the practical. The status of the Nationalist territory, he said, is a situation the Red Chinese will have to live with.

Ingalls Given Nod

WASHINGTON (AP)—David S. Ingalls, cousin and campaign manager of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio), was nominated yesterday by President Eisenhower for permanent appointment to the grade of rear admiral in the Naval Reserve.

Crown Prince Dies

STARNBERG, Germany (AP)—Crown Prince Rupprecht, pretender to the Bavarian throne, died today at Leutstetten Castle, the family seat. He was 86.

3 Men Eat New State Lunch For Total Bill Of $1.75

COLUMBUS (AP)—Bill French, publicity chief for the Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, treated two newsmen to lunch yesterday and the whole bill came to only $1.75.

The occasion was the "pilot run" of the pay as you eat cafeteria service for employees of the Columbus State Hospital.

Until yesterday employees who chose to eat in the hospital cafeteria paid a flat monthly sum for their meals there—$10 a month if they ate only lunch, $20 a month if they ate two meals a day and $30 a month if they also had breakfast.

Now they pay only for meals they eat, and the hospital superintendent, Dr. M. R. Wedemeyer, said prices will be kept low enough to cover costs of buying, preparing and serving the food.

laxed last year, and the United States says no Chinese since have been prevented from leaving.

However, U. S. Secretary of State Dulles indicated in Washington last week that a "few" students want to return to Red China but have not applied for exit permits. He said the United States was prepared to discuss their status.

The burning questions to the Chinese are the status of Formosa and a seat in the United Nations. The United States has already made clear it will not take up matters concerning the Chinese nationalists, so long as they are not present at the conference table.

Such agreements, if they appeared possible, presumably could be left for later meetings.

Dulles Says U.S. Is Hoping Red China To Abandon Force

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today the United States hopes eventually to obtain from Red China a declaration renouncing the use of force.

Dulles told a news conference such a broad commitment by the Chinese Reds would clear the way for extensive negotiations on major problems between them and other countries, including the United States.

He said the United States will not negotiate with a pistol at its head.

And the most important thing now, he added, is that the pistol should be permanently discarded.

Ceylon Hoping U.S. To Relax Ban

COLOMBO (AP)—A Foreign Ministry source said today the United States may lift the ban on aid to Ceylon.

Ceylon is barred by provisions of the Battle Act from U.S. aid because she sells rubber to Communist China.

The Ceylon source said officials of his government in Washington had been told the United States was looking for a loophole in the act to permit American aid.

9 Missing Cows Found In Cellar

YORK, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. William Parlette finally found the nine cows missing from her farm since July 24—in the cellar of an unoccupied house she owns at nearby Sunnyburn.

Four were dead of starvation and asphyxiation. The five others had survived and one had calved. The calf lived.

Mrs. Parlette said the herd wandered into the ground-level cellar to escape the heat and that one kicked shut the door, trapping them.

Public Housing Approval Is Chief's Goal

Solon List Dwindling In Last Hours Before Planned Adjournment

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House today passed and sent to President Eisenhower a housing bill unsatisfactory to him in several respects. GOP leaders intimated he might veto it and call a special session of Congress.

The bill was supported by 153 Democrats and 34 Republicans. It was opposed by 37 Democrats and 131 Republicans.

Just before the vote, Republican Leader Martin (Mass.) said a special session of congress may be necessary to get a housing bill satisfactory to the President.

And housing Administrator Albert Cole declared the bill "totally distorts the principles and purposes of the administration's objectives."

The bill calls for 45,000 new public housing units on a one-year program. Cole said "we are not willing to compromise" and wanted at least 70,000 units in a two-year program.

That measure was up for House consideration today and Martin said he would make every effort to send it back to make it "more palatable to the administration."

REPUBLICANS refused to sign the conference compromise.

Martin said there is no quarrel over the 45,000 housing units.

When the House Republican leader was asked what is wrong administratively, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty broke in to mention provisions for insurance of trailer camps, and federal money for such local projects as sewers and police.

Meanwhile, a dwindling band of Congress members was making another try at winding up the 1955 session.

Weary leaders hoped to quit by late tonight. But many hours of talk and several key votes remained.

More senators and representatives were leaving for home, for Europe or on other trips long planned in anticipation of a July 30 adjournment.

It appeared that in the Senate the Democrats might have lost their voting majority, which rests on only two votes with all members present. On a key vote last night, won by Republicans, there were 37 GOP senators and 33 Democrats on hand.

The big fight remaining in the House involves the housing bill, most important piece of legislation left with any chance of enactment.

The Senate still has action on two nominations and a sugar quota.

"MAN LEAVING OPERA IN WRONG HAT"

In my opinion there is no wrong way to leave an opera, but this fellow came close. After getting the wrong hat he grabbed the hand of the Wrong Wife and got in a cab with her. She was the Wrong Wife for him but the Right Wife for the Hat, which was all she ever saw of her own husband anyway, because she was a foot taller than he was, so she didn't notice anything wrong. She didn't hear him give the Wrong Address in the cab because the tenor had made her temporarily deaf, but when she arrived at his home and finally saw her error she got out of the rather embarrassing situation by hitting him with a poker, setting fire to the house and calling the police. All in all, the fellow might have been just as well off if he's stayed at the Opera.

World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—How much does a big smile cost?

Geneva is getting as cozy as Christmas Eve. The Russians were jolly when they met the West there. If Russian Premier Bulganin, with his chin whiskers, had put on a red flannel suit he would have made a pretty good Santa Claus.

Now the Red Chinese, meeting the United States in the same place, make an opening gesture of good will by freeing 11 American airmen.

What isn't clear, of course, and may not be for months or years, is the purpose of the Communists in this sudden switch. Is it to relax tensions, as the diplomats say? Or do they hope to gain more with grins than guns?

One thing is sure: there's a price tag on the grins. What isn't sure is the price. The bill will be delivered later. For the Russians and the Red Chinese Geneva is just the first card in an all-night poker game.

At the moment there seems to be general relief and approval in this country over the slight thaw in relations between East and West. Except for Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) there has been practically no criticism in Washington for President Eisenhower's dealing with the Communists so far.

But if the Russians and Red Chinese follow up their opener by making concessions, they will demand concessions in return. That's when the present mild Washington weather should give way to storms, with thunder.

McCarthy has been pecking away unsuccessfully at Eisenhower ever since the Senate last year condemned him for some of his conduct. He opened up Monday on the whole idea of being "friendly" with the Communists.

He blasted Eisenhower for sitting down with "tyrants and murderers." He said he's going to

Dowler To Attend Conference Of Nation's Farm Exchanges

David O. Dowler, of Asheville Route 2, will attend the National Conference of the International Farm Youth Exchange, a program which has carried the name of Pickaway County to far corners of the earth.

The conference is set for Michigan State University in East Lansing. It opens Thursday and continues through Sunday. Approximately 150 IFYE alumni—young Americans who have visited in foreign countries under the exchange program—will attend the meeting from nearly every state in the Union.

They have lived, worked and played for five months with farm families in 45 other countries around the world. Ninety-five foreign exchanges now living with rural families in the United States will also attend. They represent 26 different countries.

Dowler went to India in 1953 under the IFYE program. His home near Asheville is steadily gaining notice as a favorite visiting spot for foreign exchanges.

"AMERICANS IN Perspective" (What Makes Americans Tick?) is the theme of the conference according to Burton Olson, Wisconsin IFYE to Norway in 1951 and the national conference chairman. IFYE alumni and foreign exchanges will hold discussions throughout the week on the American way of life, and look for ways of fur-make an issue of the President's efforts to get along with the Communists.

McCarthy's attack put the finger on the dilemma of both Eisenhower and the United States. What should the United States do: stay armed to the teeth indefinitely, with a chance of war at any moment, or try to reach a middle ground with the Communists if they show an inclination in that direction?

McCarthy didn't offer any answer. If Eisenhower doesn't try to reach a middle ground then war is made more possible. Yet if he yields ground on vital points the Western alliances against the Communists may collapse and they win anyway.

thering understanding between countries of the world, the basic aim of the IFYE program. This will also make for a more valuable three months stay the foreign exchanges have left in the United States.

International festivities during the conference will find the alumni and exchanges in costume from the various countries. The international dinner, style revue, party, program, and midnight candle-lighting ceremony along with international devotions will all add to the worldwide flavor of the event.

The International Farm Youth Exchange program is sponsored by the National 4-H Club Foundation, in cooperation with the United States Department of Agriculture and state and local extension services. Rural youth are exchanged between the United States and other countries to help further world peace. Since 1948, when the program began, around 600 exchanges have been carried out with the United States. The 17 Michigan IFYE alumni are host for the 1955 conference.

Singer To Back Husband In Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Singer Yma Sumac says she'll stand by her husband Moises Vivanco, who faces a paternity suit.

"Of course I believe my husband is innocent," the Peruvian-born soprano told newsmen Monday. Vivanco also denied at a news conference that he was the father of twin daughters born nine months ago to Maureen E. Shea, 26, Miss Sumac's former social secretary.

The singer collapsed last week after learning of the suit against Vivanco, 38, her musical arranger.

FIRE DRILLS

ALMOST DAILY reports of costly fires with the resulting loss of life raise the question of the advisability of compulsory fire drills in all public places. It is true that fire extinguishers are prominently placed and exits are well marked, but they fail to train the human mind.

Fire drills have a purpose which cannot be ignored by those participating. They instill in the minds of persons where to go and what to do in case of fire. This knowledge enables the public place to be emptied with a precision and promptness which could not otherwise be the case. In the minds of the guests there will be calm self-assurance, the lack of which has, in the past, been the cause of many horrible disasters.

Probably, many unthinking folk would complain about fire drills, remarking, "The building is fire-proof, isn't it?" Many unwise questioners have been doomed to a tragic death by their carelessness.

In spite of the many years of civilization to which man has been exposed, culture and cool thinking prove to be only a thin veneer during a crisis. Horrible fires in recent years are tragic examples where ordinarily brave persons became temporarily insane and caused the deaths of many of their fellow unfortunates.

Panics have taken place in theatres because of a small fire from which no immediate danger was to be expected. The unwise shouting of the word "Fire" has caused people to be trapped to death under the feet of those who, under ordinary circumstances, would scoff at the idea of their reverting to instincts attributed only to animals.

A VANISHING SURPLUS

WHAT ORGANIZED effort and advertising can do for a farm product is exemplified by dairy output. Several years ago the federal hoarders were almost up to their ears in dairy surpluses. Today surpluses are shrinking. Efforts to win preference for dairy products are paying off.

Milk drinking is at a four per cent higher rate than a year ago. The government subsidizes sales to school children and men in the armed forces. Population is increasing as the milk drinking habit grows, spurred by dairy industry promotional efforts. With more milk consumed as such, less is left for conversion into butter, cheese and other products.

Government buying of surplus dairy products in June dropped 40 per cent from the figures for June, 1954. Federal butter stocks, at a record 466 million pounds a year ago, are now down to 161 million pounds.

This reduction was aided by government cut-rate sales and giveaways. Cheese holdings have been cut in half. Dried milk stocks shrank 470 million pounds in a year.

If efforts to eliminate surpluses worked as well in the case of other crops as they do in the dairying field, the problem of what to do with these carryovers would be less formidable.

These Days

Always there are new patterns for political greatness. This year what is required is that the candidate for greatness should visit Ireland, Rome and Israel and to be duly photographed in each place. That is all that is required to prove that one is really and truly a Liberal, a lover of mankind, a suitable candidate for any public office.

It establishes the goodness of one's heart, his tolerance and his social consciousness. In Rome, he must have a private audience with the Pope; in Israel, he must plant a tree. I have never known what they do in Ireland.

Maybe next year, if the era of good-will continues that long, it might be wise to add Moscow to the list of cities to be visited. At this moment, that is a somewhat popular town for newspapermen, farmers, and clergymen, but maybe by next year it will be like Rome, a place to demonstrate that one is broad-minded and without prejudice of any kind, except in private.

Politicians always have a very difficult time proving that they are what they pretend to be. Were they to pretend less, they would have less to prove. For instance, here in New York State, Oswald Heck, who wants to run for Governor, is trying to establish that he is as Liberal as Averell Harriman who took on that facade in 1933 and is now well-versed in that kind of lingo.

In fact, Harriman has a nobler Liberal ancestry than Adlai Stevenson, as he was recognized as such by Roosevelt himself and was converted by Harry Hopkins. Also he was established a Liberal record which Heck cannot do fast enough. On the other hand, Jacob Javits, who wants to run for United States Senator, is trying to establish himself as a Republican — and no less than the Republican leader of the state.

That is very difficult, because it does not ring true, Javits having divided his Republicanism with Dubinsky Liberalism which can be anything you want it to be.

It is just like Senator John Kennedy of Massachusetts who has recently discovered the ex-Italians of his state. I assume that they are ex-Italians because they are now Americans. It is impossible to be an Italian and an American at the same time, although some try to do that professionally.

It is just like those people who call themselves Poles or Hungarians when they should call themselves Americans. After all, what difference does it really make where they came from as long as they are here now? But it is hard to get that into the minds of those who earn a living keeping alive distinctions that ought to have died generations ago.

So that is why so many of our statesmen, when they have nothing to do, go to Ireland, Rome and Israel. There are still votes to be had out of association with those places, particularly if you can get yourself some kind of a round-about endorsement. I heard that a certain gentle politician has become one of the most active and effective salesmen for Israeli Bonds and travels all over the United States making speeches in this good cause.

SYNOPSIS

In a ten cent store on Fifth Avenue, New York, Sara Dacre had unwittingly bought the "Fire of India" ruby. To dodge police, Moxon had ingeniously secreted this fabulous treasure on the jewelry counter there, before he could carry out his plan to retrieve it, death claimed him. While making this purchase Sara Dacre unexpectedly met her neighbor, Gerry Hone, and had accompanied him to a cafeteria, where down the milling crowd, Hone somehow disappeared. A cat-like Oriental man tried to be friendly with Sara in the cafeteria, and as she walked home, a man with limping foot steps followed her. Moxon had served in the China-Burma-India theater of the war and afterward had turned to criminal pursuits.

CHAPTER EIGHT

THE CAPTAIN didn't pull any punches in declaring he was worried. "I have a report from the next precinct on that man who was knocked down by a car, just as you came out of the 10-cent store. He had a police record. His name was Peter Moxon. He was a veteran of the China-India-Burma theater who went wrong after he was demobilized. There may be some connection."

"What did Moxon do?" "When he went back to his job in a Los Angeles bank, where he had worked before the war, he embezzled some money. It was a first offense and the money was recovered, so he got a short sentence, served two years, and then was let out on probation and vanished. The California police have no idea where he went or what he did. They didn't even know he was in New York until he was run down by that car and we identified his body through his Army record."

Somehow those few short sentences brought the very odor of the criminal world into the room. Sara flinched. "But what has that to do with Gerry's disappearance?" "I don't know. Tonight I'll check the hospitals and other precinct stations. I'll get the home address of that manager of the Automat, and send a man to interview him and pick up Gerry Hone's hat. If Hone hasn't turned up at his home or office by noon tomorrow you'd better go to the missing persons bureau. If it wasn't for Moxon I'd say . . . well, sometimes men do just drop out of their regular lives and disappear for some reason that no one else knows about. Most of them do it quite suddenly, almost on the spur of the moment, but, unless they're crazy, they get hold of some cash first. That's another job for missing persons—checking with Hone's bank to see if he drew any large sums lately."

"Thank you, captain," Judith rose. "Come on, Sara. We've done all we can."

But Sara paused at the door. "Has Moxon . . . his death really was an accident, wasn't it?" Sanders' eyes were opaque as they met hers. "How can we tell?"

DIET AND HEALTH

A Wet Pack Will Reduce The Baby's High Fever

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THERE are several ways of lowering the temperature of a feverish baby. But the one that is probably used by most mothers and approved by doctors is the sponge bath.

Wet Pack

If your baby is a little too old for a convenient sponge bath, or if the sponging method does not drop his fever, you might try a wet pack. Use this procedure, however, only under your doctor's instructions.

Giving your baby a wet pack is a simple thing.

First, place a large, dry bath towel on a piece of oil cloth or rubber sheet atop a table or the baby's crib.

Wrap in Towels

Then take another towel, large enough to encircle your tot's body completely, and soak it in water heated to about 100 degrees. Make sure the water is lukewarm, not hot. Wring out this towel and place it on the dry towel.

Quickly place your undressed baby on the wet towel. Wrap the wet towel and then the dry towel about him. Leave only his head and arms exposed. Keep him in this wet towel pack for about five minutes.

If his temperature has not dropped and if he does not appear chilled, unwrap the outer dry towel, leaving the wet towel in place. Sprinkle some more lukewarm water on the wet towel and then again cover him with the dry towel.

Five Minutes More
Let him remain encased in this pack for another five minutes.

Then, remove the towels, dry him gently and put on his sleeping clothes. Get him to bed right away, but don't make the mistake of covering him too warmly. His usual number of covers will be plenty.

Lowers Temperature
As a rule, a wet pack will lower your baby's temperature from one to two degrees, maybe more.

It is especially recommended if the child has a very high fever.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
Mrs. V. L. B. Will you please tell me something about glaucoma?

Answer: The cause for glaucoma is not known.

In this condition, the circulation of the fluids in the eyeball is obstructed and the pressure of these fluids increases, eventually resulting in blindness unless relief is obtained.

An operation may be required to produce a cure.

paper they thrust under my nose. "Finally, I asked, 'What am I signing here, anyhow?' 'That,' said my secretary, 'is the payroll.' That's when I found Ross had made me managing editor."

aware of the step that halted beside her. When he spoke, she was as startled as if the lamppost itself had addressed her.

"Looking for a cab?" "His well-cut overcoat minimized the heaviness of a middle-aged figure, but there was a coarseness in his broad, flat face that repelled her. His colorless speech gave no clue to birthplace or education, but the tilt of his black Homburg suggested the elderly raffishness of a decaying sportsman or actor. Calm assurance underlay his deference. It was almost impossible to feel that he was being officious or insolent. Almost . . .

His light eyes studied her face just a little too intently for perfect courtesy. "It's always embarrassing when two strangers stand on the same corner trying to hail the same cab. Perhaps you'll let me find one for you and then I can pick up another for myself. I—Oh, there's one now! Just stopping at that marquee in the next block."

"I don't see it."

"Here. Before he gets away. Quick!"

His hand was at her elbow, guiding her toward the cross street. All she could see near the marquee was a private car—long, black, heavy, with parking lights and no one at the wheel.

She drew away from him with a sudden, queer feeling of something wrong. "I'm not in that much of a hurry."

"Taxi, lady?" "She hadn't heard the cab draw gently in to the curb, but no voice had ever been more welcome than the driver's."

"Oh, yes!" She clawed the door open and scrambled inside.

"East 87th." She panted a little as she sat back in the wide, comfortable seat.

"I see the whole thing," remarked the driver.

"What do you mean?" "I was just turning into 52nd from Madison when he first spoke to you. He wasn't a friend, was he?"

"No! I never saw him before in my life!"

She stopped, for, suddenly, she knew that wasn't true.

"East 87th?" repeated the driver.

"Yes." She gave the number. How safe she would feel once Aunt Caroline's solid door closed behind her.

But where had she seen that broad face with the wide, heavy jaw and pale, narrow eyes before? Even as she made an effort to snatch at the elusive memory, it slid away, just beyond her mental grasp, leaving her baffled and uneasy.

Beat The Heat—Keep Cool!

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Millions of Americans, sweltering under heat waves that have gripped most of the nation, have been complaining they felt more like humid beings than people.

But it's really your own fault if you let rising temperatures get you down.

Why suffer from ready-made weather? Why not build your own climate? Any do-it-yourself fan should find it easy.

Here are a few hints on how anyone can breeze through a heat wave:

1. Quit using the English language. Learn bop talk. Then everything will be "cool, man, cool."

2. If you are bald and don't wear a hat, tie some moistened grape leaves around your head—first being sure, of course, to remove the grapes. If you are afraid people will stare at you, put on some Bermuda shorts, too. Then they'll stare at your shorts, and never even notice the grape leaves.

3. Think only cool thoughts, such as: "Shouldn't I be buying winter chains for my car?" or "I wonder what Santa Claus is doing right this very minute?"

4. Whatever you do don't fall to brooding about red-haired girls or how many bills you owe. This only heats up the blood.

5. If you must quarrel with your wife, take off your shirt first. Then you can't get hot under the collar.

6. Keep your shoes overnight in the refrigerator, and be sure to take two pairs to work. Ask the nearest restaurant owner to let you put one pair in his icebox. Then, every two hours, you slip down to the restaurant, take off the shoes you're wearing, put on the cool ones, and slip the heated pair into the icebox.

7. If the restaurant owner adopts a snooty attitude toward this reasonable request, make up your mind each morning that before nightfall you're going to ask the boss to double your salary. This'll give you real cold feet.

8. Don't merely cut down on your food intake. Quit eating altogether. Soon it will be impossible for you to feel hot. All you will feel is hungry.

9. An old Boy Scout trick on the march in hot weather is to keep a pebble in the mouth. Why stop with one? Use several. But be sure to cool them periodically at the office water fountain. One of your fellow hired hands may quip, "Look, he's got rocks in his head." Pay him no heed. People always jeer at pioneers. They used to laugh at Davy Crockett, but now he's earning more money than Lassie, which is pretty good considering they call these "the dog days."

10. It is better to avoid alcoholic beverages in hot weather, but if you must drink, then you might try Martinis. Martini drinkers rarely know what century they're in, let alone the season.

As a last resort, you can lie down on the office floor and start crawling around aimlessly. When someone asks what you're looking for, you reply indignantly, "Why, four-leaf clovers, of course—what else?"

The boss is sure to send you home for the day—perhaps even in an air-conditioned ambulance. Heat waves? Anybody can whip 'em with a little gumption and a bit of that old Yankee ingenuity. Nobody's ever got crazy with the heat if he's just do one thing: Keep cool!

Looking Back In Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO

Miss Mary Farwell of Hampshire, England, a farm youth who is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Dearth, is enjoying a tour of the Pickaway County Fair.

Most of the events of the Pickaway County Fair were cancelled because of the heavy rains.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Barthelmas and son, Mr. and Mrs. George Speakman and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ebert Jr. are vacationing at Buckeye Lake.

TEN YEARS AGO

After more than a week of inactivity, city firemen answered four minor fire calls in one day.

Mayor Ben Gordon was assured of another term as head of the Circleville official family in the primary election, since he is unopposed by the Republicans.

A dramatics club, to be known as the Circle Players, has been organized in Circleville.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Scientists have declared the cause of the nation's worst drought in half a century an inscrutable mystery.

Over 200 county 4-H club members and their families enjoyed a picnic at Rising Park, Lancaster.

Market price for eggs is now 19 cents per dozen, and butterfat is worth 35 cents per pound.

Washington C. H. Tourney Is Enjoyed

A total of 32 members of the Pickaway Country Club journeyed to Washington C. H. to enjoy a buffet dinner in the club house and to participate in a Mat- and Dates golf tournament.

Circleville players had ten winning teams in the match play, which was participated in by 64 persons. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Leroy of Circleville were medalists in the event with a score of 87. Low putts were won by Mr. and Mrs. Vaden Couch, also of Circleville.

A mixed two-ball foursome and buffet supper have been scheduled for Sunday at the Pickaway Country Club. The supper is to be served no later than 6:30 p. m. Reservations for the event are to be made at the club by Thursday.

A drawing for the Calcutta match, scheduled for Aug. 14 at the club, also is to be made during the evening.

The ladies of the Pickaway Club have been invited to participate in a tournament play Aug. 10 at Athens. All local ladies planning to attend should make reservations for the event by Thursday.

The ladies again will travel to a tournament on Aug. 12. The Scioto Country Club ladies will serve as hosts to this event. Reservations must be in by Aug. 9.

The members of the local club are planning a dance for members and guests on Aug. 13. Arrangements for the Calcutta match will be completed at this time.

Mrs. Bernard Trecher is chairman for ladies' events during August at the Country Club. She is to be assisted by Mrs. Ben Gordon and Miss Ruth Montelius.

Farm Council Conducts Varied Program Session

Stage Pond Council met Monday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Van Pelt.

Mrs. W. W. Robinson opened the program with a talk based on the poem "Foxholes of Mankind," by Helmer Oleson. She brought out the destructibility of cultural and spiritual influences in contrast to the material.

The evening's discussion period resolved itself into a probe of the reason for low-income and part-time farming. The need for tested vocational guidance of our youth in choosing a life work was stressed; as was increased opportunities for the development of the natural abilities of the individual.

During a social hour, the hostess served refreshments.

Here's a delicious Chinese-style soup. Slice canned water chestnuts thin; add them to chicken broth with sprigs of water cress when you are heating the soup just before serving. The stems should be left on the water cress and it should be wilted, not cooked. A clove or two of garlic (cut in half) should be added with the cut vegetables, too, then removed before serving.

Built-In Units Suit The Range To The Customer

You have heard of the short order cook, no doubt. But have you heard of the cook who was too short?

That is the woman who does not conform to the national statistical average and pays the penalty by having to use equipment that will never be the right height for her to cook in comfort.

It is also one of the reasons, according to the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, for the tremendous growth in popularity of built-in gas range units, since they can be placed at the level most convenient for the lady of the house.

The taller woman likes them, too, because she can have the oven placed at the proper height so she no longer has to squat down awkwardly to take a look at how the roast is doing.

There is an added safety factor to this oven-off-the-floor business, too: small children will not be able to reach it to experimentally open the door when something is cooking.

For the woman who is redecorating the kitchen, the units are

Is Overweight A Family Trait?

Not unless you belong to the elephant family. In over ninety-nine per cent of the cases, overweight is simply due to overeating. If you are overweight you will be interested in this letter from Sidney J. Wilson, Jr., R. 6, Medina, Ohio. Mr. Wilson writes: "Rennel Concentrate was recommended to me by a very good friend of mine. He told me how he was losing weight and how Rennel Concentrate had done wonders for him. The first week using Rennel I lost 7 lbs. Now my wife is also using Rennel and we both are obtaining wonderful results. Along with losing weight, we have so much more pep than we had before."

Thousands of others have overcome the social and physical discomfort of being overweight with this effective home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drugist and ask for four ounces of Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. No diets to complicate your meal planning. No expensive vitamins to fortify your system from weakness while going without food for you can eat normally. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple easy way to lose pounds of bulky fat and help regain slender, more youthful curves — if reducible excess fat doesn't seem to disappear almost like magic just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. Insist on and be sure to get Rennel.

Miss Delong Is Honored Guest

Miss Ellen Delong was honored with a dinner party marking her birthday anniversary.

The event was held in her home in Stoutsville. The afternoon and evening were spent in social conversation.

Those present for the occasion were: Miss Delong, honored guest; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Crawford of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Delong and children, Connie and Mike, and Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Delong of Laurelville.

Mr. and Mrs. John Miranda, Albert Roberts, the Rev. Frank Csaszar, Stamey Martin, Charles Martin, Mrs. Sarah Stein and Miss Nora Delong.

And for those shopping for a new home, the built-in units provide the ultimate in kitchen luxury.

Young Set Picks Old Favorites In Corduroy

In the welter of new miracle fabrics, born in test tubes and designed to withstand soil, water, pests and wear, a few old-fashioned favorites still hold their own.

Cotton, wool, linen and silk still are very much evident in the current fashion scene. They come in new weaves, finishes and patterns, it is true, but the basic ingredients are the same as they were in grandmother's day.

School boys and girls for generations have been partial to corduroy, because it is husky, comfortable and washable. Corduroys of old were rather stiff and heavy and likely to produce a whistling sound when schoolboys wore their cord slacks or knickers.

All that is changed today, when corduroy is made in fine-wale, lightweight versions for party dresses, when it comes in every color of the rainbow plus many unusual prints, when it also is made in wide-wale weaves for jackets and coats.

For the high school and college set, corduroy jackets, jumpers, dresses, shirts, slacks, skirts and shorts are slated to rate high in popularity. Shirts in printed plaids are tops with the boys, girls like date dresses in the new high colors such as shocking pink.

Even in its new high-style versions, cotton corduroy retains its old-fashioned virtues—wears like iron and goes happily into the family wash.

Chicken giblets are best used when they are fresh. But if you want to freeze them put them in a package separate from the chicken parts.

Democratic Club Conducts Picnic

A total of 35 members and guests enjoyed a picnic held by the Pickaway County Democratic Women's Club at Gold Cliff Park. A basket dinner was enjoyed at the noon hour by the assembled group. Speakers for the day were Ed Wallace, state representative, and Ray Cook.

A swimming party in the afternoon was followed by refreshments and social visiting in the early evening.

Basements are coming back.

The postwar trend houses without basements has been reversed and is now going the other way. First sign that basements were edging back into popularity came at the end of 1954 when a Bureau of Labor Statistics survey revealed that 41 per cent of houses started in the first quarter had basements. This was a five per cent increase over 1950.

The trend to basements was most evident in better quality houses. Only five per cent of houses selling for less than $7,000 had basements but the percentage rose sharply in each higher price bracket. About half of the houses between $12,000—$15,000 had basements. Six out of ten in the $15,000—$20,000 class and seven out of ten in the $20,000-up class had them.

OTHER INDICATIONS were cited that a larger proportion of houses are being built with basements than at any time since before World War II, when 69 per cent of houses were so equipped.

Surveys since World War II among families planning to buy or build a house showed a majority prefer basement houses. This preference was not satisfied in the early postwar years when "minimum" houses were hurriedly built to ease the housing shortage. Now, better houses with more space are being provided and this is an important factor in the basement comeback.

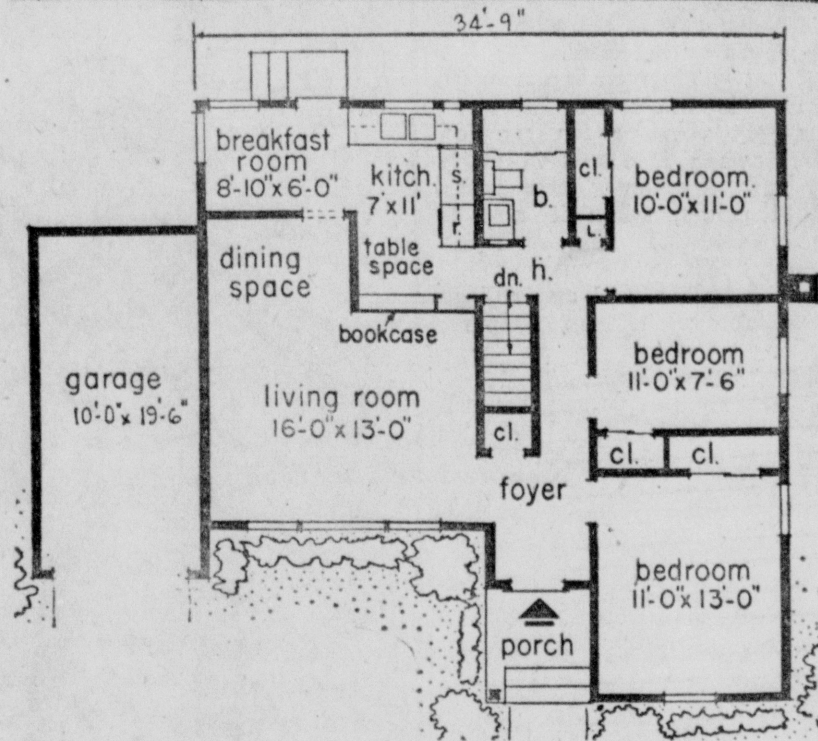

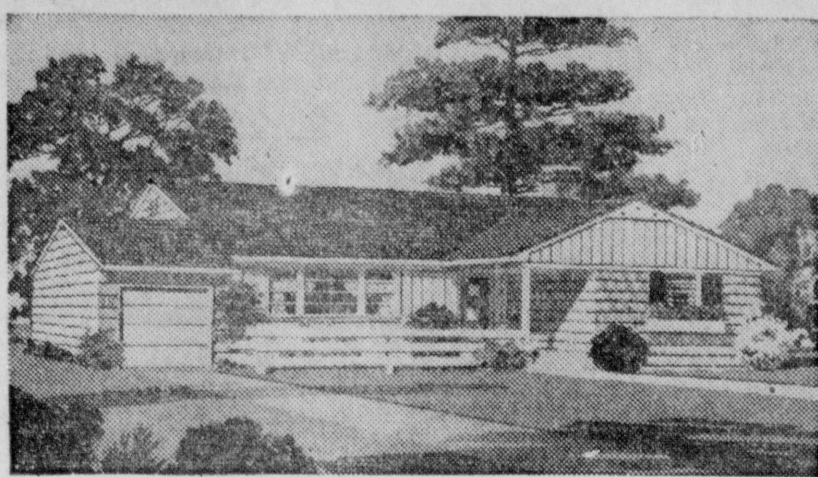

Another reason is that the split-level house, with its lowest level partly below grade, has had a spectacular rise in popularity. In making the basement space in these houses comfortable and attractive, builders have discovered techniques that can be applied to ordinary basements to make them light, airy and pleasant.

One method is to excavate sizable areas around sunken basement windows, using attractive retaining walls and planting shrubs and flowers in the enclosures. This enables use of more and bigger windows for more daylight and bright picture-window effects. Also, on many lots where an exterior basement wall is exposed four to six feet, an above-grade recreation room can be provided with the split-level treatment.

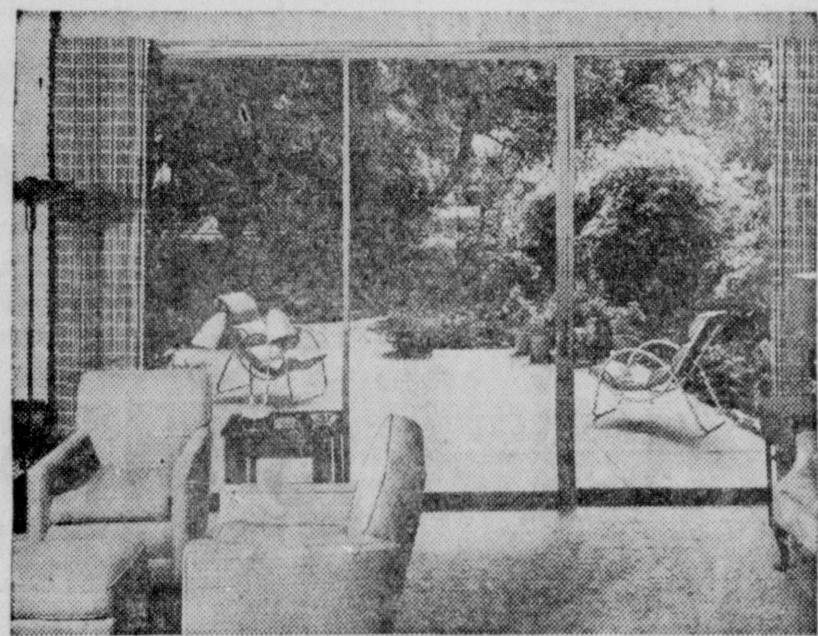

Basement help provide the space required by today's families as they acquire more children and more possessions. Because basements don't have as much furniture and as many windows and doors as the rest of the house, most of their wall surface can be used for cabinets and under-seat storage.

A BASEMENT doubles the space of a one-story house at a cost only 10 to 20 percent more than for a slab structure, with additional benefits from more comfortable floors and savings on heat.

The space advantage of basements will be a strong determining

A moderate-sized home, if well-planned, can give maximum comfort at minimum cost. "Open planning" often gives a remarkable feeling of spaciousness, as illustrated by this "Coronet" creation by Home Designers, 115 New Hyde Park Road, Garden City, N. Y. The plan features cross-ventilation, a convenient arrangement of work area to save steps, and a dining room which can also be used for full family living. Compactly-arranged, the house has 1,007 square feet. Blueprints are available from the architects.

SLIDING PLATE GLASS DOORS make the patio an "outdoor room." In rainy weather when the doors are closed the patio is still a visible, integral part of the house and adds a feeling of spaciousness to the interior.

ing factor for their popularity for many years ahead.

With the population still growing at a record-rate and land costs continuing high, there is no indication that larger lots will be provided in the general housing market.

The rambler that doesn't have enough room to ramble needs a basement. The utility room that doesn't provide enough utility—and which may cost almost as much as a basement—is an inadequate substitute. The new-fashioned basement—finished, paneled, heated—meets an old-fashioned family need for space and does it with modern efficiency.

Height Of Strip Windows May Govern Mortgage Put On Home

A large life insurance company is now blackballing mortgages on houses which have only shoulder-high strip windows in bedrooms. As a fire safety precaution, this organization has ruled that "at least one operative window in each bedroom must have a sill height of 3 feet 8 inches or less from the finished floor."

Furthermore, this must be a window easy to get out of. "Where this one window is a single unit awning type," the edict continues, "the narrow dimension of the sash must be at least 24 inches."

Of course, this is the policy of just one institution; many mortgage lenders seem to be more concerned with merely getting their money out. But it is a policy most people can appreciate. Even the man who does not own a house, but carries some life insurance, wants to know that his money is safely invested.

Tip to Farmers—

Make Granaries Weatherproof Before Harvest

Farmers should make sure their granary space will be ample for storage of this year's harvest, and that adequate protection is provided against leakage, weather, rodents, insects, and other hazards. Whether constructing a new storage building or reconditioning one now in service, a new asphalt roof will provide protection from weather damage, and will give long, economical life.

With a wide variety of asphalt roofing available for use on farm service buildings, it is easy to select a suitable type for any structure. Nineteen-inch selvage edge roll roofing, a locked-on-type of asphalt shingle, or a standard type strip shingle may be used on barns and other permanent buildings.

If the building stands in a high, exposed location, cementing down the tabs on the asphalt strip shingles with quick-setting asphalt cement is recommended. Asphalt roll roofing may be used on low, small temporary structures.

The foundation, walls, and floor must be of sound construction, with the floor far enough above the ground to prevent flood damage in heavy rains. Doors and hatches must be tight-fitting, and there should be no loose knots, split boards, or open joints which could cause loss of grain.

"Basic principles of good planning," contends this institution, "have a definite meaning to the long-term investor whose decisions are influenced by the fact that funds are entrusted to him by many small accounts. . . The interests of the long-term investor differ from those of builder and broker, because the loan security must be salable or rentable in a future as well as in a present market, and must be designed and constructed to satisfy the future demands of the widest possible market."

ARCHITECTS' REACTIONS to these dictates from financial institutions are varied. "Makes sense," said one architect. "I stopped specifying strip windows about three years ago, but I never thought of the hazard. However, the FHA has taken some steps in that direction.

"In certain areas the FHA will not approve of a bathroom window over a bathtub. It not only involves a hazard of falling when opening and closing the window, but it also complicates use of the shower, the hanging of curtains and it tends to chill the bathtub. But in other states we can get by with it."

Another architect was more skeptical. "Personally," he said, "I don't like strip windows, but I don't think the fire hazard amounts to anything in a one-family, one-story house. More likely this is the reflection of some individual's opinion—someone who doesn't like strip windows."

A third architect expressed serious concern. "For years," he said, "financial institutions opposed any form of contemporary design. Mortgageable houses had to be imitation colonial, synthetic tudor or fake Georgian. Ranch houses without basements shook the pillars of the Federal Reserve and in many places flat roofs are still outlaws. If bankers designed our houses, we'd probably still be living in caves."

Because it gives you so many advantages over other types of construction and costs less at the start!

"Mary Hawthorth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I have a sister who is just past 40. A few years ago she lost her husband and their two children in a very tragic accident. Due to the shock, and because she had always had a fear complex, she started to drink—not heavily, but just enough, as she said, to keep her from going crazy.

At first we let her go, as we could see that she wasn't overdoing it. But as time went on, and she made no effort to get out and start a new life, we became alarmed and took her to a doctor. He said that from childhood she had been unsure of herself; and was afraid to enter the business world, and had an unconscious conviction that everyone did things better than she.

With the aid of understanding, she did overcome the drink, but it left its mark. She had always had a nice skin before, but now she has redness, broken veins and blemishes, and this seems to bother her. I was wondering if you could suggest any creams or treatment to correct this condition. We have spent so much, and she has very little; and a skin specialist would be expensive, I know, so I am hoping you can think of some reliable home remedy. Now that she has found herself and knows that God's solace is always present, her life henceforth will be happier. We hope you can help us.

B. W.

DEAR B. W.: Plenty of rest, a good nourishing diet augmented by multiple vitamins (and minerals), a daily intake of lots of water and other mild liquids, and systematic hot baths to stimulate circulation—these are "reliable home remedies" that doctors propose for your sister.

I've discussed your appeal with two doctors, and each remarked that the "escapist" drinker doesn't eat properly as a rule, while using alcohol as a crutch. His daily consumption of proteins, fats and vitamins isn't enough to maintain healthy tissues, muscles, skin, etc.—and the liver cells begin to break down, I was told.

However, if the drinker stops drinking in time (as your sister has), and pays attention to right diet and good health habits, the body tends to repair itself rather rapidly. Especially in persons less than 50 years of age. After 50, the body's reconstructive genius is apt to be less effective than before.

Vitamins Aid Pep

In recommending multiple vitamins as a general buildup for your sister, one doctor mentioned his favorite brand—a well known trade name, first to combine mineral traces with vitamins, to provide a balanced food supplement. This doctor also takes Brewer's yeast daily (in tablet form), in addition to the multiple vitamins—"for an abundance of the vitamin B complex," he says. Vitamin B has long been known as the pep-and-morale vitamin, fed to ball-players to keep them fit.

The other doctor, a woman, endorses these views, and puts in a good word for hormone cream, so-called, to restore elasticity to an aging skin, parched by alcoholism or ill health. This type of cream is on sale under various labels at most cosmetic counters nowadays. But, before applying it, it is well to get a doctor's opinion and/or prescription, our counsel says.

Health permitting, a daily hot bath to rouse circulation and bring the blood supply to the skin, is anybody's beauty aid. For this—a clock, a bath thermometer, and 10 minutes' immersion in water at 105 degrees are required. Omit soap. Follow with brisk toweling, and a body rubdown with peanut oil, as an inexpensive polishing touch if the skin tends to dryness. Doctor permitting, drink a quart of salt water before or after the bath, to cover the body's saline loss due to perspiration. A scant level teaspoon of table salt to a quart of cool tap water is the proper mixture, counsel tells me.

Studebaker Strike Accord Reached

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—An agreement has been reached in the seniority dispute which led to the closing of the Studebaker plant here 11 of the past 13 work days, officials of the CIO United Auto Workers said last night.

William Ogden, president of the Studebaker local of the UAW, and Raymond H. Berndt, a regional director, said workers are to be given "bumping" rights on the basis of seniority.

"Bumping" privileges assure a worker with longer service to the firm the right to claim a job held by a person with less seniority in the event of a layoff.

New Pact Halts Copper Strike

DOUGLAS, Ariz. (AP)—Phelps Dodge Corp. and the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (Ind) have agreed on a new contract, bringing a break in the nation's copper strike.

The new contract provides for wage increases of 11½ to 17½ cents and the complicated new health and welfare plan. Wages going up from $13.12-$19.04 a day to $14.04-$20.44.

The wage adjustment is the same as that won last week by nonstriking miners affiliated with the AFL Metal Trades Council. The agreement runs to July 1956 and affects 23,000 workers.

He ought to tie up with Lord Hamilton who is selling bonds for the rejuvenation of Scotland; if Lord Hamilton's worthy cause were adequately popularized, perhaps he could get some Senators or Governors whose ancestors bled at Bannockburn to labor for him. There must be some Scotch votes left in the United States and the Scots are surely a minority and therefore entitled to extraordinary consideration, as any minority is. In fact, nobody counts anymore unless he belongs to a minority, no matter of what size.

Paul Robeson, who represents a most narrow minority, consisting of only Paul Robeson, asks for a passport because he is a Negro and has been refused one because he is an American. Robeson does not realize that being an American forces one to assume responsibilities and liabilities and duties and obligations.

An American may not legally and should not morally be part of the apparatus of a foreign country without self-admission. But maybe one day, he will learn, like the Turncoats who discovered that China isn't all that it is cracked up to be. That country must have changed a lot since my day. I liked to live there always, but not as a Sino-American.

The confiscated machines were a

This week Buick soars past the 600,000 mark!

Biggest-selling Buick of all time permits us to make the biggest trade-in deals ever possible!

HERE it is, just past July, and what do you think has happened?

Buick popularity has broken every past full-year record! That's the gospel truth. And Buick, of course, has had many great years before.

At the beginning of this week, Buick production passed 600,000 cars for the 1953 model year.

That is over 155,000 more automobiles than the full model year of 1954—when we captured third place in total national sales.

It is more than 11,000 higher than the full model year of 1950—when the automobile industry had its greatest year, and Buick established an all-time record that stood unchallenged until now.

It is almost a quarter of a million more automobiles than the full model year of 1941—which was the greatest pre-war record Buick ever reached.

In other words, there has never been anything before like 1953 in Buick history—when today Buick is building over three cars every minute to meet the public demand.

Doesn't this tell you something important?

Doesn't this soaring Buick success mean that you owe it to yourself to see and sample the car that's breaking every record in the Buick book?

Doesn't it mean that you ought to try Buick's mighty V8 power—Buick's great room and comfort—Buick's cruiser-steady ride and roadability—Buick's superb visibility and precision handling ease?

And doesn't it mean you certainly ought to try Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflo®—the world's only transmission with the switch-pitch principle of the modern plane's propeller—and the most spectacular performance advance of the year?

Come in and see us—this week, at the latest—and learn for yourself why today's Buick is the biggest-selling Buick of all time—and how big a trade-in deal we can offer you with this tremendous volume to back us up.

*Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at modest extra cost on other Series.

All Stars Polish Passing Defense

CHICAGO (AP) — The College All Star coaching staff, hoping for a break in the extremely hot weather, has remapped the week's practice program for the Aug. 12 game against the Cleveland Browns.

Instead of starting off with offensive drills, head coach Curly Lambeau set the squad through a long defensive passing drill.

The workout was aimed at stopping Cleveland's passing attack which will be headed by George Ratterman.

Redlegs Win 5th Straight; Face Twin Bill

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Redlegs will put a five game winning streak on the line tonight in a two-night doubleheader with the Philadelphia Phillies.

The Reds edged the Phils 4-3 last night, with Hersell Freeman coming to the rescue for the third straight time, to boost themselves into sixth place.

Freeman, 26-year-old righthander, was purchased from the Boston Red Sox last May 10. There were some grunts and groans by critics when the Redlegs made the announcement of his acquisition for his record wasn't too promising.

Manager Birdie Tebbets sent in Freeman in both ends of Sunday's doubleheader and called upon him to protect the Reds' one run lead last night. He came through in all three games, has allowed no runs in his last 11 innings.

Freeman faced one Phil, Willie Jones, with two out in the ninth and with runners on first and third. He got Jones to ground out to preserve Art Fowler's victory.

Fowler got into trouble in the ninth when Glen Gorbous doubled down the right field line and Richie Ashburn bunted. Gorbous scored on Jim Greengrass' grounder. Freeman replaced Fowler after Del Ennis singled.

Fowler's win was his sixth in 13 decisions. He singled home a run in the second inning after Bob Thurman walked and Roy McMillan tripled. Johnny Temple singled and Wally Post doubled for one run in the third.

The Reds scored what proved to be the winning run in the eighth on three straight singles by Post, Gus Bell and Thurman.

Major Loops Lift Starting Time Law

CHICAGO (AP) — The major leagues yesterday knocked out the rule that a player cannot report to spring training before March 1 and scheduled the controversial bonus rule for action at a joint meeting in December.

The player-bonus rule, which has been unsatisfactory to everyone concerned, requires a team to carry bonus players for two years and include them within the 25 player limit. The rule probably will be dropped.

Grandview Books Trot For $10,000

CLEVELAND (AP) — A field of 10 trotters awaits the starting signal Friday night for the $10,000 Cleveland Invitational Trot, fastest purse at Grandview Oval, McKinley Kirk, general manager, reports.

Favorite is Pronto Don, biggest money winning trotter in the business.

Also slated for the race is Hi-Lo's Count, a 10-year-old brown gelding, Wayghost, Earl's Pied Piper, Nancy Song and Earl's Song.

Wallace Points To Law On Old Ice Boxes

Pickaway County residents have again been reminded that penalties under state law await those who abandon an ice-box, refrigerator, or similar equipment where it can be turned into a death trap for children.

Ed Wallace, Pickaway County state representative, called attention to the fact that the new law, enacted by the 101st General Assembly, went into effect Monday. Earlier, City Solicitor George Gerhardt said a similar city ordinance would not seem to be necessary in view of the new state law.

Passed 121-5 in the House and 30-0 in the Senate, the new law prohibits any person from abandoning, discarding or knowingly permitting to remain on a premise under his control and in a place accessible to children, any abandoned or discarded ice box, refrigerator or other airtight or semi-airtight container of 1 1/2 cubic feet capacity or more, and an opening of 50 square inches or more, without first rendering such equipment harmless by human life by removing hinges, latches or other hardware which may cause a person to be confined in it.

THE NEW LAW does not apply to ice boxes, refrigerators or airtight containers or semi-airtight containers located in that part of a building occupied by a dealer, warehouseman or repairman.

It carries a penalty of from $25 to $200 fine for offenders.

The need of such a law was brought to Ohioans' attention vividly recently when two five-year old children were found suffocated to death in an old refrigerator in Columbus.

Yank Educator Interviewed By Reds

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP) — Mrs. William E. Reed Monday night heard from her husband for the first time in more than a week—thanks to Radio Moscow and a Greensboro teen-ager who is a short-wave fan.

Her husband, a professor of agriculture at A&T College here, is touring Russia with a group of other Americans. Taylor Doggett, 19, was listening to his short-wave radio when he picked up Radio Moscow Monday night.

They were interviewing Dr. Reed, Taylor reported. The Greensboro educator said he was impressed with the Russians' hospitality.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Dallas Times Herald carried a story Sunday quoting Mrs. Clara Margerum as saying she would like to rent a big house for a four-day reunion with her 12 children.

She reported Monday she had received 93 offers. She took the first one—from a Dallas motel.

One caller wanted to marry Mrs. Margerum, a widow, so he could claim the 12 children as income tax exemptions, she reported.

Program Launched To Increase Demand For Lamb In Ohio

ROUNDUP

Pickaway County farmers can obtain experienced advice and up-to-date literature on their farming problems at the County Extension Office located in the Post Office Building, S. Court St., Circleville. The office here is the link between district farmers and the College of Agriculture, Ohio State University.

An intensive program to promote consumption of lamb in Ohio was described during the eighth annual Ohio Sheep Day in Wooster. Ralph Grimshaw, Extension sheep specialist at Ohio State University and secretary of the Ohio Sheep Improvement Association, described the plan.

It is a program to make consumers aware of the value of lamb meat and encourage consumption of a delicious, tender meat that is as good for us as it tastes, he said.

The promotion actually begins, Grimshaw pointed out, with the producer. Ohio sheepmen have what is known as the Commercial Ewe Flock Program. Participating is a group of men who endeavor to produce "premium" lambs. Another objective is high gross return per ewe and sufficient flock management.

Breeders constantly watch flocks for breeding animals that produce better quality lambs and at the same time show high efficiency in feed conversion, strong constitutional and health traits, and other qualities similarly indicative of good breeding stock.

With this sound basis for progress in production, the sheepmen are ready to market high quality lambs in greater numbers and with more uniformity. This is the background for the promotion plan which Ohio sheep producers are considering now.

Harvesting hogs, getting the pigs to market at the right time, may be neglected during the rush of harvesting grain and hay, says Herbert Barnes, extension specialist in animal science at the Ohio State University.

Neglecting to "top out" the hogs as they reach market weight is adding to the farmers' marketing problems at this time, Barnes emphasizes.

If the entire lot of pigs on feed is held in the feed lot until the smallest pigs reach about 200 pounds weight, some of the hogs go to market at heavy weights. Packers discount these heavy hogs sharply when bidding.

Gains put on after the pigs reach 220 pounds require more feed, Barnes says, and the extra pounds lower the price packers are willing to pay.

Barnes recommends checking the hogs in the feed lot each week and topping out the pigs weighing over 200 pounds.

Fried chicken will be plentiful during August, predicts the Ohio

State extension service in its monthly list of Plentiful Foods, issued in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Broiler and fryer chickens are being produced at the highest rate in history, and young cockerels from farm flocks will add further to the supply of chickens for frying.

Canned grapefruit segments are unusually plentiful for this time of year, because of an unusually large supply packed in Florida last winter and spring.

Lemons and limes, fresh, canned and frozen, will be about the peak of their season, and watermelons and grapes also will be plentiful.

Home grown vegetables will be abundant, in home and commercial gardens. Potatoes will be plentiful, principally from California, with some potatoes arriving on the market out of early harvests in the Midwest.

Beef is listed as plentiful in all states, and pork is expected to be plentiful in Ohio as the hogs early in 1955 begin to come to market.

Milk and dairy products, lard, vegetable fats and oils, and halibut complete the list of Plentiful Foods for August.
